Dear Parents and Carers

Re: Year 12 Geography update

I am writing with an update to my letter dated 3 February regarding the teaching of year 12 Geography.

It gives me great pleasure to inform you that we have appointed a Geography specialist who will start with us in September. This means that unfortunately, for the next half term we will need to continue to run the year 12 curriculum as we have since January.

Once year 11 and 13 depart in early May, we will be in a position to reorganise lessons and ensure all students receive their full allocation. I have also personally visited the students' lessons this morning to inform them and field any questions that they had.

I once again apologise that we are not able to act any sooner, however, we will review the plans for year 13 and adapt accordingly to ensure that our students receive the best possible opportunities to succeed.

I would finally like to take this opportunity to thank you for your continued support.

Should you require any further information or clarification please do not hesitate to contact me at pberry@st-martins.essex.sch.uk

Yours sincerely
