Dear Parents and Carers

Re: Key Stage 3 Homework

I wanted to write to you to clarify the school's homework policy. We had numerous queries regarding homework last term and I wanted to emphasise a few important points.

The statement below relates to the Key Stage 3 homework timetable and states:

The homework timetable is designed to ensure that students are not inundated with work to complete on a particular night. The professional judgement of the teacher will determine if homework is to be set on the night it is due. There are occasions when homework is due but may not be set. On these occasions students can take the opportunity to revise or read around the subject.

I also would like to add some detail to the last sentence. Attached to this letter are specific details for additional tasks in Maths, English and Science which students could complete in addition to any homework set by their class teacher.

The internet is a fantastic resource for everybody and the BBC Bitesize website can also be used for other subjects. A snapshot of the website is attached.

Many thanks for your continued support.

Your sincerely

Mr D N Goddard
Deputy Headteacher
